WHY IT MATTERS

@WORK (ECONOMIC)

Conflict between work and family life is one of the most common sources of stress for working adults. Achieving a workable balance is essential for healthy family management, workplace success, and economic well-being.

FAMILY (EMOTIONAL)

Family well-being is vital to health, wellness & education. Families who make informed decisions, manage basic needs, and tackle pressing family issues are better equipped to live happy, healthy lives and guide children to successful outcomes.

LIFE (SOCIAL)

For many parents work time, often limits the time spent in leisure and other activities with the family. However, a lack of both quantity and quality family time can adversely affect mental and physical health of the family unit.

WHO WE ARE

We are a community-based human service organization and family resource center. We provide intra-family management education and support service solutions to parents and families challenged by the complexities of raising children and stabilizing family wellness.

In collaboration with our community partners, it is our goal to empower our program participants using evidence-based family management solutions to improve family functioning and promote child and family health, safety and development. Though we enjoy working with a diverse populace, we have a heart for marginalized, under-resourced populations with children ages birth to eighteen (B2E) years.

● PRESENTERS

Conference presenters are professionals in their field with the knowledge and skills to inform, educate, inspire actions, and solutions.
